

THE CAIRNGORM CLUB

Membership Application Form

Mountaineering Scotland recognises that climbing and mountaineering are activities with a danger of personal injury or death. Participants in these activities should be aware of and accept these risks and be responsible for their own actions and involvement. Members and others participate in Club activities at their own risk; the Club accepts no liability.

This form can be used to apply for Ordinary, Associate or Interim membership. Please read the sheet "Club Membership" (available at www.cairngormclub.org.uk) and the notes below and overleaf.

INTERIM MEMBERSHIP (see reverse side for Ordinary Membership):

Interim or trial membership lasts up to six months. To apply, first contact the organiser(s) of the meet(s) you are interested in attending, in order to book a place and pay the meet fee(s) (there is no other fee for this class of membership). Then, specify below the meet(s) you have arranged, and send this form to the Membership Secretary (see overleaf).

ORDINARY MEMBERSHIP (ONLY)

The Committee grants Ordinary Membership only to those whom it considers to be able, in general terms, to look after themselves and to lead one or two others in all conditions normally encountered on the Scottish hills, though without expecting any proficiency in skills requiring the use of ropes. This level of ability will generally be inferred from experience amounting to at least thirty Munros, including at least four in the Cairngorms, and at least ten in winter conditions; but non-Scottish experience will also be recognised. Please summarise your experience below listing winter experience first, and be as specific as possible about conditions for winter ascents. Add additional sheets if needed.

Date (year, season)	Mountain(s)	Ground (or Cliff) Conditions	Overhead Conditions

Please ask two Ordinary members (e.g. Committee members, or leaders of President's Parties, Mid-Week Walks, or Climbing Meets) to propose and second your application by signing below, and then send this form to the Membership Secretary (see below), who will let you know the outcome of the next Committee meeting, and the amount payable.
