The Newsletter of the Cairngorm Club

Congratulations

At the recent AGM of the Mountaineering Council of Scotland Fred Belcher was elected Vice President. Among his new duties he will represent the MCofS on the BMC Youth Advisory Panel!

Cairngorm National Park—Latest

The Draft Designation Order for the CNP has been published (see www.scotland.gov.uk) for public consultation until 22 August, after which Ministers will decide on the final form to be approved or rejected (but not amended) by Parliament. The DDO specifies an area much less than recommended by SNH (and the Club), e.g. excluding all the Angus and Perthshire glens, Beinn a'Ghlo and Gaick/Drumochter. Also, strategic planning is left in local authority, not National Park, hands, and Highland Region will dominate the LA members of the Park Authority. The DDO is considered grossly inadequate by Richard Shirreffs who led the Club's original CNP submission, by a joint Cairngorms Campaign/Scottish Environment LINK meeting which Richard attended, and by the Club Committee.

CLUB POSSESSIONS

A review is currently ongoing of the various insurance policies that the Club has taken out. In order to ensure that the cover is up to date and appropriate for the needs of the Club today, it is imperative that the list of assets and memorabilia is also brought up to date.

Any Club member who has in their possession (or knows the whereabouts of) any object, article, photograph, picture, book or other item belonging to the Club, please get in touch with the Treasurer

Cairngorm Book: The Ecology, Land Use and Conservation of the Cairngorms, edited by Club member Professor Charles Gimingham, has now been published by Packard Publishing, priced at £39.99 soft cover, £74.99 hard cover. ISBN 1-85341-117-5.

The band will be the ever popular Hallyrocket - stovies will be served mid way through the evening. There will be a raffle in aid of mountain rescue, prize donations very welcome, please bring them along on the night. Cost £10.00. Pay on the night by cash or cheque made payable to "The Cairngorm Club". Please contact Anne Cassidy to book.

Grey Man of Ben Macdhui

Speakeasy Productions in Perth are currently working on a new series called "Mysterious Scotland" which will be broadcast on Scottish and Grampian television early next year. It will take a serious look at mysterious events from ancient places to sacred sites, hauntings and tales of myth and legend. The stories will be told using a mix of atmospheric filming, interviews and voice-over. Told in both Gaelic and English, the series will give a real feel of the mysteries that pervades so many parts of Scotland.

They intend to do a piece on the Grey Man of Ben Macdhui and are looking for people that they could interview for the series.

Anyone who can help with this is invited to contact Colin J Monk, Researcher at Speakeasy Productions on 01738 828 524.

While Richard will be drafting a Club response, the Committee asks all members to add a personal comment to the enclosed part-letter, and to send it to one or more MSPs. It is understood that a groundswell of public opinion stands a good chance of persuading Ministers to alter the DDO.

BUS MEETS

The Committee is concerned at the low numbers appearing on bus meets in recent years, and may be forced to take action next year. If you have views on this problem, or have suggestions about how to tackle it, please contact any member of the Committee.

Reiff Weekend

Club members are heading to Achitribuie (On the west coast just north of Ullapool - grid ref. NC026083) on the weekend of 23rd - 25th August, camping at the campsite at Achnahaid. There will be plenty of opportunity for climbing and/or walking and there is a Dance on the Friday night in Coigach Community Hall at Achitribuie, with the band Dochas playing.

Those wishing to attend should meet at the dance or campsite. Contact Anne Cassidy for further information.

“The ITALIAN Job 2”

MerseysideMC/Cairngorm Club
Joint Meet March 2002.

The following report by Brian Newton relates to a meet in March where members of both clubs headed to Italy for some skiing.

Teams met up at Stansted in the early hours and with characteristic cunning evaded detection and slipped out of the country unnoticed. At Treviso, we split up, and grabbed our patriotic red/white & blue “Spirito de Puntos” (sadly no Minis were available). The drive to our chosen action area was uneventful, avoiding possible Mafia attacks by taking back roads & narrow mountain tracks usually associated with goats. Our base was to be a safe house at La Val, in the Alta Badia (Sella Ronda)

Charlie Croker skilfully organised the party into groups for intensive training, some needing, and getting, more attention than others, if you see what I mean. ... This involved fitting long curly pieces of wood/plastic on our feet, then sliding about in a fluffy white stuff, sometimes going “A over Ts” and all this under blue skies and the powerful Italian sun. In contrast to the serious nature of the training, all this seemed to make people smile and laugh a lot, particularly in the evening after consuming glassfuls of the local fruit juice. In the days that followed, we went further and further afield as the training advanced. However we noticed certain members of the local Mafioso on our tails and trying to keep pace with what was now a very proficient band. Needless to say, with Croker in charge, they failed miserably.

Inevitably, time ran out and having completed our mission, it was time to return to base. With difficulty, we squashed the Puntos into the back of the bus, and, keeping our heads down, slipped across the border, smugly satisfied to have taken some of the best skiing of the year from right under their noses. “ang on a bit, io’ve got an idea..... – Bridger.

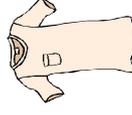

The teams:

MMC – Richard Dickinson, Paul Williams, Chris Minnett, Pete Smith,
Bill Sutherland, Don Brookes, Brian Newton, guests: Alex Newton & Jeff Pritchard

CC – Anne & Liz Cassidy, Zoe & Tom Sokec, Emily Gamble.

There have been a couple of noteworthy changes to personnel on the Council. John Donahue has stepped down from the Presidency after four years and is replaced by Pete Hill. Roger Wild is now the Mountain Safety Advisor.

Climbing News

I could say that the season started with "a bang" but that is probably being a bit facetious about an incident that could have had a totally different outcome. Many thanks to all of you for your help and support at the time and to all you many well wishers that gave moral support during the following days. I am pleased to say that whilst not yet back to full fitness I am back out climbing again.

Apart from me giving everyone cause for concern the season has gone quite well so far. The numbers of people coming along on Tuesday evenings has been consistantantly good. The number of people coming along for a "climbing experience" as well as those already possessing the necessary skills and subsequently applying for membership has been encouraging. Apart from our usual Tuesday evening forays there has been a trip to the Peak District where war was waged with true grit!

The incident referred to Fred's fall from the top of a route on Deceptive Wall in April of this year. Thankfully no serious injuries were incurred.

MCofs

Whilst everything appears much quieter at the moment with the general furore about access and legislation having moved into a different phase the MCofs continues to monitor the proceedings and try to ensure that all those who partake in outdoor activities will continue to have the freedom to do so. This does involve a great deal of time and a continuous presence as the legislation goes through the committee stages.

The National Outdoor Centre at Ratho should open its doors to us all later this year. There are currently discussions taking place for a permanent exhibition area on the Scottish Mountaineering Scene. If this comes to fruition our Club will be involved and represented there.

Ski Touring Weekend

Dave Kirk is arranging another Cairngorm Club Ski-Touring weekend based at Muir on the 21 - 23 of February 2003. Please give him a call on if you would like to come along. Informal advice will be available and if enough people are keen, tuition could possibly be arranged.

The area is superb for ski-touring with everything from the beginners slopes at Glen Shee to classic ski-touring, over the area's Munros. If you don't ski-tour but would like to try, equipment hire is available, from Braemar Mountain Sports 013397 41242. They hire Nordic skis (ones with free heels at all times), and Alpine touring gear (heels are locked down for descending).

Finally, although it's a ski-touring weekend and we are trying to develop this, people wishing to hillwalk or climb are welcome too.

Munroist List

To register completion of a full round of Munros or Corbetts members should write to David Kirk who is "Clerk of the List" for the SMC. Please enclose a SAE for your certificate.

Alpine Meet 2003

In the very early stages of planning is a proposal for a Club Trip to the Alps in July 2003. It is envisaged that the accommodation will be in the vicinity of Zermatt. Based in this area there is something for everyone. Fairly easy going walks, more serious walks, snow plods ascending 4000 metre peaks, glacier travel, climbing 4000 metre peaks including the Matterhorn, everyone's tastes can be catered for in this region. Providing that there is sufficient interest the plan is to rent a chalet for the period. There is also the cheaper alternative for those that prefer to camp as there are good camping facilities in the area. Will anyone that is vaguely interested in taking part in such a trip please inform any member of the Club Committee so that the level of interest can be evaluated prior to pressing ahead with the project.

Spean Bridge - "Easter" 2002

About a dozen of the less stalwart members met in the Spean Bridge Hotel for the "Easter" Meet on the weekend of 5-6 April.

The weather was almost unbelievably good, and the combination of blue skies, little wind and snow-capped summits actually enticed people up several of the obvious hills round about (though not the Ben?), including some useful Corbetts. However, one less than youthful member was found snoozing gently by the roadside, having been there apparently almost all day.

The hotel was good and welcoming. However, the split between Impetunious Youth in the Roy Bridge hostel and the more senior members in the hotel did suggest that next year we might look for somewhere more all-accommodating. For example, we might take over a (nowadays well appointed) youth hostel en bloc, or use next-door facilities of different standards, as at the successful (but slightly wetter) Glen Elchaig meet in November 2001. If you know of somewhere suitable, please contact a Committee member.

Training

The committee wish to encourage the ongoing learning and acquisition of hill walking and mountaineering skills, particularly where they relate to helping novices or leading others in the hills. Assistance with funding for such courses may be available from the Club; members wishing to avail themselves of this should apply to the Club secretary (Anne Cassidy) with details of the course and its cost in advance of the training being undertaken.

First Aid Training

The Club has put some forty members through mountaineering first aid training over the last three years. The committee wishes to maintain this as a regular facility within the Club. Judy Middleton is co-ordinating the course. Anyone interested (including those needing to renew their certificate) should contact her.

Glenmore Lodge

Glenmore Lodge is the sportscotland National Centre for mountaineering, mountain training, rock climbing and ski mountaineering, amongst other things. Members may obtain discount on many of these courses by virtue of their membership of the MCoFS (through the Club.) The Lodge prospectus can be obtained by calling 01479 861256 or can be accessed online at:

www.glenmorelodge.org.uk.

Barbecue 19 June

This was the usual success, in balmy but non-midgey weather out at Templars, where we welcomed some new members. Many thanks are as ever due to chef Neil Cromar and his several helpers, who this year included not only Brian Davey slaving over the firebars and the usual group of "salad ladies" but also some "brawny young climbers" (according to our petite Secretary) who helped with shifting the heavy gear.

The Scottish Wildlife Trust has organised a sponsored "Conquer a Corbett" event on 24th August.

Muir

The week beginning 5th July 2003 has been put aside as a Family's Week. This has been popular in the past and was suggested at the AGM.
