Muir—Improvements

Those of you who have read the summer edition of "parklife" the magazine of the Cairngorms National Park will have seen the report mentioning that the Cairngorms LEADER + Local Action Group is providing funding of £30,000 for "a proposal to upgrade the Muir of Inverey bothy". The committee are very pleased with this offer of grant. What may not be clear is that this Leader plus funding may only be forthcoming, if there are matching grants from other approved sources. Other grant applications have also been made and we await their outcome. Aberdeenshire Council have kindly approved a grant of £12,000. Following the decision taken at the Special General Meeting the Cairngorm Club applied for Community Amateur Sports Club Status (CASC status). The Inland Revenue has now approved the club's CASC status and the club, is now amongst other things, able to reclaim tax and can match some of the Leader grant. To this end the club would now welcome donations for the Muir funds. Donations however small or large will be most welcome, and in fact with over 500 members if each member donated £20 or £30, after reclaiming tax the club would be well on the way to matching the LEADER + Local Action Group grant. At the moment the project is estimated to cost some £60,000 to £75,000.

Your committee have decided to ask for quotes for the work. It is hoped to have quotes by the beginning of September, and for construction to start in October. It would be nice to have the funding in place well before then.

The work is to include providing a new kitchen twice as big as the existing one, to upgrade the wiring, to renew the water pipe across the road, to provide additional water storage and to upgrade the roof on the timber extension. We will also make Muir more suitable for the less abled with the addition of a disabled toilet, shower and better access. More and more use of the hut is being made by the less abled, particularly by Beechwood, Rosehill Special Needs Centre and Marpool schools during the week. As one hut custodian reported it is great to read letters of appreciation from youngsters who have never seen deer or squirrels and who can use Muir for a well supervised break. The committee is keen that the club should build on the work started in 1965 when the bequest of Dr. George Taylor, a civil engineering lecturer at Aberdeen University, allowed the then committee to purchase Muir Cottage. The Club owes a lot to former committee members who then purchased and improved Muir. It is up to the club members now to show the club's commitment to mountaineering and to helping the less able, by contributing however much they wish to updating Muir.

Please send donations payable to the Cairngorm Club to

Derek B Pinches

Derek, our treasurer, will then send out a gift aid form, which should then be completed to allow the club to reclaim tax. Derek will soon be contacting those members who have already generously promised financial assistance.

Aberdeen & St. John Mountain Rescue Association

The Association recently held their sponsored walk around the Invercauld Estate. This proved to be a longer but much liked walk, with plenty of variety in terrain and landscape. The weather on the day of the walk was good which was a help. Gill Shirreffs (CC Rep on the Association Committee) did the walk with 2 others from the same committee the weekend prior to the walk, so that they could marshal and dish out refreshments on the day. The day of their walk was not so good, with low cloud and mixed views but at least it remained dry for all but the last section.

Thanks to those members who did sponsor Gill and hopefully some members will join the walk next year. We never know if we may be grateful to the team for assistance, though we do our best to avoid requiring their services. Members perhaps do not realise that the Cairngorm club was active, post war, in the provision of a rescue service which was the forerunner to Mountain Rescue. There are still club members who were closely involved with this so we have very particular connections

Pabbay – Climbing Trip June 2004

A group of 11 climbers including Bill Stephenson, Jon Yeardsley, Dave Ogden, Julia Harker and myself made the long journey across to Pabbay in early June 2004.

Pabbay is an uninhabited island south of Barra in the Outer Hebrides. There is a small stream providing fresh water and a beautiful sandy beach with very pleasant camping overlooking it. We stayed on the island for 5 days and had a wide variety of weather most of which didn't last long.

We climbed mainly at Small Buoys Geo and Evening Wall, Rubh' a' Charnain – a short walk from the campsite. The Galley and The Poop Deck at Rubha Grootach which is located at the most westerly point of the island gave some excellent sport along with fine views across to Mingulay and also The Great Arch. Access to the routes at these locations involved an easy walk/scramble to reach their bases although one area – the Poop Deck involved a short abseil. The rock was all Lewisian gneiss and for the most part excellent although some loose stuff was encountered with one route having had some drastic alteration to the start which made it go up in grade from a Severe to an E1!!

Two of the party attempted the Hebridean island classic 'A Prophecy of Drowning' E2 5c on The Great Arch but were rebuffed on the first pitch by a torrential downpour which then left them with a 100m jumar!

We barely scratched the surface of the available climbing, doing routes which ranged in difficulty from V.Diff to E1. We could quite easily have found new routes to do if we had been a wee bit more adventurous and had more time. A superb place to visit and one that I hope I'll be going back to in the near future.

from the floor. Of course the easiest way for members to ensure that they have the time allowed for their concerns is to inform the Hon Sec beforehand. The Executive Committee are aware that this was a situation that needed to be dealt with as after all we claim to be democratic and every member must have the opportunity to express genuine concerns.

Next year the Gathering (AGM) for 2005 will be held in June at Glenmore Lodge.

Anyone seeking to update their mountaineering skills should take advantage of the various training courses supplied on behalf of the MCof S and shown in The Scottish Mountaineer, which is published quarterly.

VP MCof S

Training

The Committee wish to encourage the ongoing acquisition of hill walking and mountaineering skills, particularly where they relate to helping novices or leading others in the hills. Assistance with funding for such courses may be available from the Club; members wishing to avail themselves of this should apply to the Club secretary (Anne Cassidy) with details of the course and its cost in advance of the training being undertaken.

Glenmore Lodge

Glenmore Lodge is the sportscotland National Centre for mountaineering, mountain training, rock climbing and ski mountaineering, amongst other things. Members may obtain discount on many of these courses by virtue of their membership (through the Club) of the MCofS. The Lodge prospectus can be obtained by calling 01479 861256 or can be accessed online at: www.glenmorelodge.org.uk.

Club-Organised Training

First Aid courses may be run when demand is sufficient. Please contact Neil Gauld to register your interest.

Di Gilbert also offers climbing courses tailored to the needs of Club members, details are on the website at:

www.cairngormclub.org.uk/meets/climbing/climbcourse.htm.

The Club also arranges Navigation and Winter Skills. Watch the Newsletter and Website for details.

Mountaineering Council of Scotland

Where do we start? As usual there is a lot going on. The Access and Conservation Committee are being ever vigilant in tracking the Access Code through its last stages of its journey through the Scottish Parliament to ensure that nothing untoward creeps in that will be to our general disadvantage prior to becoming legal in the near future.

Whilst on about access and conservation and things being legal it would appear that the Council have upset some folk of late. I refer you to the photo montage in the current issue of your Scottish Mountaineer pages 8 and 9. This of course is a photo montage based loosely on a plan submitted as part of a planning application to develop the area shown in the picture. It is the equivalent of an artistic impression. The proposed developers have become very hot under the collar at this impression and are trying to intimidate the council into various courses of action which are currently being resisted. The threats of all sorts of legal action are implied so we feel that for a general impression of what this area could look like if planning consent is granted is close to what any future photograph taken from this viewpoint, subsequent to it being built, could look like. No doubt you will be updated on all matters "wind farm" in future issues of the SM.

The situation regarding the future ownership of the Ratho Adventure Centre rumbles on. As of yet there is no update. There is a management buyout bid on the table but my understanding is that this still requires someone with about a million pounds to come along before the deal can be secured. Of course the National Indoor Climbing Centre is part of Ratho hence our close involvement with what is taking place. Funding for the international youth climbing competitions planned for later this year has been secured so these events should happen as planned.

The Annual Gathering (AGM) of the Council was held back in June at Glenmore Lodge. This year's event attracted quite a large number of members and was considered to be overall successful. However it was felt that things were too tightly scheduled and that there was insufficient room to allow any degree of flexibility. This was obvious in that questions from the floor, which were not agenda items, were less than adequately dealt with. Next year sufficient flexibility will be programmed in to allow members with genuine concerns to raise them

SGM / CASC

On 31st March a Special General Meeting of the Club was held and approved the changes to the Constitution that had been circulated to all members with the notice calling the meeting.

The major change is to the Dissolution clause. If the Club is dissolved at some time in the future, the Ordinary Members no longer share the value of the remaining assets between them. What is now specified in the Constitution is that any remaining assets can only be used for approved sporting or charitable purposes. They may be transferred to:

- another club registered as a community amateur sports club and having objects similar to those of the Club or
- the Scottish governing body for the time being of the sport of mountaineering for use in related community sport or
- a registered charity.

The purpose of the changes was to enable the Club to become a type of charity. The application was approved by the Inland Revenue and the Club is now officially a Community Amateur Sports Club (CASC). This enables the Club to gain certain benefits - in particular, we can now reclaim standard rate income tax on any donations that are made under the Gift Aid regulations. All that is required is the completion of a small simple declaration by the donor. This will enable the Club to reclaim 28p for every £1 that is donated towards the cost of the Muir Refurbishment Project by members.

Unlike a full charity we will NOT be able to reclaim tax on annual subscriptions.
